

Nothing to Say (feat. M Shadows)

Slash

We seem so lost and jaded
Well what a price to pay
Fear can't be overstated,
And you seem infatuated
With finding who's to blame. While it can seem so hard now,
I got a feeling we ain't meant to live this way. Don't tell me it's too late,
Cause I feel it too, we all love to hate
And let others lead the way. Some searching to find
That life with a new piece of mind. And still we march further away,
Singing our songs of yesterday.
While so much still stands in our way,
Voices with nothing to say.
Some feel that life's a favor,
While some don't have the time.
Worship and kiss the altar,
All hail the mighty father,
But love will keep you blind. Same questions we keep asking,
Won't hear the answers
Cause we're scared of what we'll find. We try and compensate through our troubled faith that should keep us safe
And keep searching for a sign. Some searching to find
That life with a new piece of mind. And still we march further away,
Singing our songs of yesterday.
While so much still stands in our way,
Voices with nothing to say.
There won't be another day, no changing of the seasons,
And no one's gonna save us from the lies. The greatest story ever told,
Is only what you make it.
There will be struggle and fear,
All by design. And still we march further away (We seem so lost and jaded)
Singing our songs of yesterday (Nothing's got all the point, the blame)
While so much still stands in our way (Yeahhh!)
Voices with nothing to say

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songarea.com/>