

Distant Shore

Dierks Bentley

Every day I swim an ocean fightin' your memory like endless waves
I've surrendered to the truth, I'll always love you but I know someday
I'm gonna reach the banks of a distant shore Where I won't miss you anymore Once in a while I'll ride the river of whiskey wishes from an old shot glass
But the way it used to be, follows me downstream, so I keep knockin' 'em back
'til I reach the distant shore
Where I won't miss you anymore Someday I'm gonna get there
It might take my last prayer But one these days I'm gonna cross that ocean, some sweet angel will set me free
And they'll tell my story, sing a song about glory, and read Psalm 23
When I reach the banks of that distant shore
Where I won't miss you anymore
Gonna rest my soul in the hands of the lord
Where I won't miss you anymore
