

Happy Without You

Caroline's Spine

i remember thinking things would never change the way it was, and how it was to remain i haven't cried in a while but i haven't forgotten the pain in my heart and after so long you finally called i remember thinking things would never change the way it was, then how it was to be alone i should have know better then that i couldn't handle you on my own cause i broke your heart and even thought i'm glad you finally called i'm never ever gonna go back i'm happy here without you
i'm happy here without you still i remember thinking things would never change
but i haven't forgotten your pain
cause i broke your heart and even though i'm glad we finally talked
i'm happy here without you i remember thinking things would never change...
