

Echo

Tristan Prettyman

Well isn't it like you have 'em all fooled
Stand tall walking proud, now you're breaking the rules
Tell me honey, are you feeling just a little displaced
Let down and alone now, what a bad bad taste

'Cause when I hear you say my name
Well I don't feel the same
Start to feel like I might break
And it's more than I can take
No use in trying to make me stay
When I'm already on my way
Cause when I go you're gonna hear it echo
When I go, when I go you're gonna hear it echo

Now things just ain't what they used to be
Two years gone by and now it's just a memory
Well I tried to explain the reasons why
Step up or step down, come on baby pick a side

'Cause when I hear you say my name
Well I don't feel the same

Start to feel like I might break

And it's more than I can take

No use in trying to make me stay

When I'm already on my way

When I go you're gonna hear it echo

When I go, when I go you're gonna hear it echo

Oh start your running, no no no

Start your running, no no no

'Cause baby I don't wanna see your face round here no

more

Oh start your running, no no no

Start your running, no no no

'Cause baby I don't wanna see your face round here no

'Cause when I hear you say my name

Well I don't feel the same

Start to feel like I might break

And it's more than I can take

No use in trying to make me stay

When I'm already on my way

When I go you're gonna hear it echo

When I go, when I go you're gonna hear it echo

Echo, 'cause baby

Lately it's gotten too much to take

And baby I, I don't know if I can let it go

'Cause baby now

Some point I know I will break

And when I do, when I do you're gonna hear it echo

When I do, when I do you're gonna hear it echo

Echo, baby now

When I do, you're gonna hear it echo

Echo, baby now

When I do, you're gonna hear it echo

Echo, baby now

When I do, you're gonna hear it echo, echo, echo
